Over 400 of our courses are accredited by professional bodies, who periodically visit Northumbria to ensure our courses meet professional standards.

Our academic staff hold the same professional registrations and accreditations.

SUPERCHARGE YOUR CV

To build that perfect CV, you need to get hands-on experience.

Working on live projects, taking part in a placement year or studying abroad will build upon your skills and make your CV stand out to future employers.

Placements allow you to get workplace-ready, test your knowledge and skills, and gain invaluable work experience.

Live projects offer the opportunity to work with a company to answer a real brief. Thanks to our extensive connections, we give you opportunities to gain experience at the highest level.

You could find yourself working with companies and organisations like Northumbrian Water, Procter and Gamble, Nissan, and the BALTIC Centre for Contemporary Art, or working on live legal cases while you study.

Choosing to study abroad will not only give you unforgettable experiences and memories, but also considerably increase your employability prospects and help you gain personal contacts that you can benefit from for years to come.

By the time you graduate, you'll really know what it takes to succeed in the workplace: to respond to a brief, develop innovative solutions and present yourself with confidence.

"We're introduced to live projects on our course. The most recent one was with Seaton Delaval Hall, where we worked with the National Trust. It was really interesting; we had a client that we could talk to and ask what they liked and what needed to change."

En-Xi-Wu | Interior Architecture

"My advice would be simple – if any student is thinking about going abroad to study, even if it is the smallest thought, do it because you won't regret it. The friendships and memories that are made whilst studying abroad are second to none, and is truly such an amazing experience!"

Chris Bridge | BA (Hons)

DEGREE APPRENTICESHIPS

Higher and degree apprenticeships offer the best of both worlds combining university study and workplace learning. Northumbria University is a leading degree apprenticeship training provider and was one of the first UK universities to offer government-supported degree apprenticeships.

To take part in a Degree Apprenticeship you require agreement from your employer, or in some instances you will be applying for a new job with an apprenticeship as part of that employment. The first step in the application process is the University receiving an employer application form, indicating that they are willing to support you throughout the programme at the University.

If you would like further support with the discussion with your manager or employer about apprenticeships or your wider training and development, please contact our Sales and Business Development team by email at degree.apprenticeships@northumbria.ac.uk or complete the form on the website to request a call back.

If you have a question relating to an apprenticeship programme or you would like to talk further about how apprenticeships at Northumbria University work, call 0191 227 3251.
