Subject Challenge

By way of us getting to know you and you getting to know each other, over the summer we'd like to encourage you to engage in a bit of playful creative thinking. Bring your notes to our first all-student induction meeting in Newcastle on September 19.

On separate pieces of paper, approximately 75mm square (the size of a standard Post-It Note) describe the following:

- An object that holds great personal meaning for you, but no one else.
- An idea or memory that's triggered by a particular fragrance or smell.
- The taste of your favourite fruit to someone who's never eaten it before.
- A place that you're afraid to visit because you know if you go you won't want to come back.
- A city that you've never lived in for six months, but would like to, and why.
- A personality trait that you're grateful for, and your reason for being grateful.
