

Northumbria University
NEWCASTLE

MFA Summer Task

Before you join us, we invite you to spend some time reflecting on your practice and ways to introduce yourself and your work. You might consider making a short video, drafting a visual map of the different elements technical, physical, and conceptual, that you work with or listing the questions you are trying to answer. Be imaginative, thoughtful, and playful. We will ask you about these reflections in the first weeks of the course.