

Welcome Electrical and Electronic Engineering Challenge 2021

Hello and welcome to the start of your exciting time with us at Northumbria. At the beginning of your journey or your new year at Northumbria, we would like to hear from you. Specifically, we invite you to let us know your vision for the future of electrical and electronic engineering and its impact in the UK cities in 2050. Show us how you see the role of electrical and electronic engineering in the future of the UK cities by twitting your thoughts, sketches, etc. Please send your tweets by mentioning the Department Twitter handle and #FutureEE by September 24th. This is an opportunity for you to consider creating a Twitter account as well.
