

The conference has three bursaries available for PhD and MA students.

An applicant has to be a member of ESREA (individually or through an institutional membership), whose proposal for the conference has been accepted.

Each bursary is a max of 300 Euros to cover travel and lodging expenses. The network convenors will, in dialogue with the Secretary of ESREA, decide who will be awarded bursaries.

If you would like to be considered for a bursary, please email Dr Helen Woodley (helen.woodley@northumbria.ac.uk) with the following information:

- Your academic position
- A letter of support from your supervisor and the reasons for applying (e.g. lack of funding from your institution)
- Confirmation that your submission has been accepted and you have received an acceptance letter

The convenors will notify the successful students before the conference and inform them of the process.
