International Migration and Inclusive Development in India

The relationship between international migration and development is now a key area of global, national and regional policy making, as well as a focus of academic research. This is particularly the case in relation to India. This British Academy-funded project analyses the Indian international migration-development nexus and is focussed around a series of four workshops, the second of which is to be held at Northumbria University on 13th November 2018.

Workshop 3: Labour and Skill Mobility From and to India: Contemporary Practice and Governance
