

Natural Environment
Research Council

Northumbria
University
NEWCASTLE

Invitation to workshops: “Connecting people with nature in our cities”

Background of project

What are the workshops?

We are running two workshops in February and March 2023 with local organisations to ask how the University can support your efforts.

What am I being asked to do?

You will be asked to share your views on how to work together to improve the nature in our cities, and our connections with nature.

Who is invited?

We are inviting organisations in Newcastle and Gateshead who deliver local initiatives that address the climate, biodiversity and/or mental health and wellbeing emergencies.

Who are we?

We are a team of academics at Northumbria University who have received NERC funding to work across disciplines to address environmental challenges for our communities.

Details of workshops

Dates

Workshop 1: 10am-1pm, Friday 17 February 2023

Workshop 2: 10am-1pm, Friday 17 March 2023

Location

Northumbria University, Newcastle City Campus (room TBC)

Format

We will meet in a boardroom style room where you will have the chance to discuss your views with other organisations.

Lunch and refreshments will be provided.

Contact

Dr Emily Henderson, Principal Investigator, Associate Professor in Children & Young People's Mental Health & Wellbeing

emily6.henderson@durham.ac.uk

0191-215-6472

