A dinner that impresses

There's an art to setting the perfect tone for a formal dinner, an occasion that marks a moment in time and makes a big impression.

Northumbria University can create a memorable dining experience for small and large parties of people, offering both traditional and contemporary settings.

Make it a grand affair in the Great Hall – refurbished to reveal original 19th Century decorative features and seating up to 120 diners – or opt for the wow-factor in our world-class Sport Central Arena, which accommodates 360° seating and contains the Corry Room – an intimate environment that can be transformed into a lounge and bar area for smaller parties.

Our venues team will work with you and our on-campus catering team to provide seasonal and interesting dinner options and can design bespoke menus for your occasion, with all dietary requirements catered for and all produce ethically sourced.

An exhibition that connects

Showcasing talented people and innovative products requires a certain level of creativity and visualisation, not to mention a great deal of planning.

At Northumbria University, our dedicated venues team will be with you every step of the way to make your exhibition or product launch a success. We'll help you create the right look and feel, provide you with on-hand technical support, and share our marketing platforms to help promote your event.

Our stand-out venues for exhibitions and launch events include the 3,000 person capacity Sport Central Arena and also the Northern Design Centre in Gateshead – a multifunctional flat space with a creativity lab and immersion theatre.

We also hold creative showcases in the Woon Gallery, and can offer Student Central as a light and airy venue at the heart of our campus.

Support that works for you

Northumbria University's venues team are with you from start to finish to recommend the best spaces and services for your occasion.

We will work with your people to visualise and deliver the best possible outcome for your event, advising on venue location and hospitality solutions, IT support and AV equipment, and much more.

Expert hands make light work

Our venues team will be on hand to help you create and manage your event, from liaising with our on-campus catering team to guiding you through the risk assessment process, ensuring all eventualities are considered and contingency plans put in place.

Catering and hospitality

Catering and hospitality across our campuses provides a wide range of food and drink facilities and services to suit all tastes and budgets, with all produce being environmentally sustainable. We can offer a range of catering packages to choose from or we can have our chef's build a menu around your needs.

Accommodation

Our campus residences, including studio apartments, are available for overnight stays during the summer months and ideally located in the heart of Newcastle, with fantastic links to train, bus and Metro transport services. Our team can check availability and arrange reservations to suit your numbers, guaranteeing that it's a comfortable stay for an individuals or large group booking.

IT, security and marketing

Our University IT department can provide expert advice, AV equipment and set up assistance to ensure your event runs smoothly. We'll also work with our security teams, providing advice and stewarding to ensure our clients have full confidence in the running of large, public events.

Our team can also help to promote your event on our platforms if desired; creating an events page on our website events calendar to give your event a further boost.
