1. Introduction: Purpose of the Student Protection Plan

Students and their education are at the heart of Northumbria University. The University is committed to supporting our students achieve the best academic outcomes from their studies. The University will deliver student programmes and has arrangements in place to ensure programmes will be delivered effectively. In addition, the Higher Education and Research Act 2017 requires universities to maintain a Student Protection Plan to protect students' interests in the case of material change, e.g. programme changes, suspensions, campus closures, or institutional closure. This Student Protection Plan sets out what measures we have in place to protect our students in the event that a risk to the continuation of studies should arise. The type of event or changes, which might cause such a risk, are detailed below.

A Student Protection Plan is a requirement of the University's registration with the Office for Students (OfS), and it will be reviewed and refreshed on a regular basis by the University in collaboration with students as part of ongoing registration with OfS¹.

The measures contained in this plan are in addition to the protections available to students under consumer protection law, and do not impinge on consumer rights².

2. Our commitments to our students

- being open and transparent with students should any risk to the continuity of studies arise; we will inform students of risks in a timely manner.
- taking reasonable steps to protect students and their study should we discontinue a programme, close a location (building or campus) where a programme is primarily taught, or if we close altogether.
- taking into consideration the needs of all our students and the impact on them of any proposed changes and protective measures (including students on placement or on an approved interruption to their studies).
- considering students when deciding to implement any substantial changes to a programme or discontinuing it, or closing a location.
- supporting our students, by the provision of clear and timely information, advice and guidance and other support as appropriate, in the event of significant changes that impact their studies.

In line with our Student Charter, we commit to:

We are committed to informing the OfS of material changes to the plan or any of the measures contained within it. We will regularly seek students' views on this plan as part of our student feedback processes. Any views, concerns or feedback in relation to this plan should be sent to Student, Library and Academic Services, Quality and Teaching Excellence via the ar.qte.regs@northumbria.ac.uk email address.

This Plan will be made publicly available to all students on our website, along with enrolment terms and conditions and other key documents.

3. What type of events will invoke this student protection plan?

We retain the right to make minor adjustments and improvements to programme and module content year on year, and these in themselves do not warrant the triggering of student protection measures – see below. Nor is the Student Protection Plan activated in instances when:

- individual student circumstances require Termination of the [Enrolment] Agreement in the Light of New Information (Section 2.5 of the Handbook of Student Regulations).
- a student ceases to be employed as a Degree Apprentice whether because of individual or employer circumstances³
- pandemic management or other national circumstance necessitates a switch of mode of delivery, or other reasonable adjustments, which enable the delivery and assessment of learning outcomes; e.g. a switch from on campus to fully on-line or blended delivery.

The Student Protection Plan will be activated in the event of major changes; these include circumstances in which Northumbria University:

- decides to discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled and teach-out arrangements cannot be reasonably assured.
- decides to close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable alternative premises at a nearby location.
- decides to cease operating altogether.

We may also need to invoke this plan if:

- the University's Tier 4 licence to recruit international students is revoked by UKVI.
- accreditation of a programme by a Professional, Statutory or Regulatory body (PSRB) is withdrawn.
- external programme funding (e.g. for apprenticeships) is withdrawn.
- an apprenticeship sub-contracting arrangement is terminated.
- there are serious issues with an educational partner – e.g. the educational partner becomes insolvent.

³ Cf reference point: <https://customerhelp.education.gov.uk/hc/en-gb/articles/18228373250322-Employment-and-redundancy-in-apprenticeships>

Any other circumstance in which we can no longer provide a programme to students would also activate this plan.

We will take into consideration the needs of all our students, including those with mobility considerations or special educational requirements.

Should any of the measures in this plan need to be invoked, this process will be overseen by the Academic Registrar, in consultation with the Pro Vice-Chancellor (Education), the President of the Students' Union, the Head of Legal Services and other stakeholders as appropriate.

Normally, this Plan will not be activated for minor changes to the curriculum made in line with the University's policy and detailed within our Enrolment Terms and Conditions (listed under Handbook of Student Regulations), or for changes which are evidently in students' best interest (e.g. the addition of external accreditation). Nor will the Plan be activated for circumstances specific to individual students e.g. changes to a research student's supervisors or insolvency of an employer sponsoring a Degree Apprenticeship or postgraduate research student; in these circumstances the University will always seek to secure arrangements which enable students to complete their studies. In all cases, there will be communication and consultation with students. Where the Student Protection Plan is not activated but students indicate that the programme, as delivered, varies significantly from what they expected, there are both internal and external complaint processes available to students (see Section 14).

4. Likelihood of major changes triggering the Student Protection Plan

Northumbria University is an established UK provider of higher education, tracing its origins back to 1969. A Polytechnic from 1969, the University was formally established in 1992 by the Further & Higher Education Act (1992). Since that time, Northumbria University has successfully sustained a track record of quality HE provision in the UK and internationally. The University's annual report and accounts demonstrate a history of strong financial performance and a robust financial position. Noting the University's dedicated mission to offer higher education, its prudent financial management and ongoing monitoring of financial sustainability risks and going concern requirements by the University Executive and the Board of Governors, it is therefore extremely unlikely that the University will close due to financial issues.

For international students, the University has a dedicated professional support team focussed on visa and UKVI compliance. We have held our UKVI licence since 2008 (when they were introduced). We proactively manage and monitor our UKVI licence via internal audit processes and we consider that risk to its retention is well managed. Projected increases in international student recruitment from a wider range of destinations can bring a higher degree of risk and the University has in place appropriate due diligence and ongoing monitoring mechanisms to mitigate this risk.

Accreditations by Professional, Statutory and Regulatory Bodies (PSRBs) are actively managed by the University, and particular attention is paid to accreditation with licence to practice implications. We are also committed to maintaining a portfolio of programmes, which are enriched by optional PSRB accreditation. The full list of PSRB accreditations and the programmes covered is available here. We reserve the right to review the range of PSRB accreditations on an occasional basis, including when a PSRB periodically adjusts its accreditation requirements. Consequently, and exceptionally, PSRB accreditation may change. If accreditations change during a period of study by a cohort of students, the University will seek to negotiate with the PSRB to enable current students to complete their studies if possible.

The University's estate in Newcastle, and partner's facilities used for teaching by Northumbria in London and Amsterdam, are actively managed to ensure that they remain fit for purpose. We reserve the right to close, refurbish and build new buildings. Northumbria's commitment to enhancing the student experience means that teaching facilities will be improved and adjusted over time. During any periods of change or disruption, the impact on students will be minimised through the guarantee of alternative nearby facilities of equivalent standard. There is also an ongoing refreshment of IT tools and facilities in line with developments on the home campus. There is therefore an assurance of continuity of service to students even if classrooms, buildings or other teaching resources are adjusted.

In addition to the above, the University has active risk management controls and continuity plans available to ensure a continuous and effective service to students.

Notwithstanding the above, the University recognises that the impact of change in smaller operations and/or within our franchised/collaborative partnership arrangements may be experienced more acutely. Particular protection measures are therefore considered in respect of our:

- London Campus
- Amsterdam Campus
- Franchise and Collaborative Venture provision.

5. Student Protection Measures - Newcastle Campus

5.1 If the University decides to:

- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB.
- close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable premises at a nearby location.

We will consult students in line with our Student Charter and the principles noted above (Section 2) and take one or more of the following measures to protect continuity of study for our students:

- whenever possible, we will make arrangements to 'teach out' current students where we have voluntarily decided to leave the market or close a programme. This means that we are committed to ensuring the programme of study can be completed by all currently enrolled students, even though the programme is being discontinued and we will not be admitting new student cohorts.
and/or
- we will liaise with PSRBs where possible to assure teach-out with the guarantee of the accreditation; if this is not possible, we will actively negotiate with other universities to seek and secure transfer arrangements for student cohorts and also consider a partial refund to students in compensation for the loss of accreditation.
and/or
- if the above steps are unsuccessful, we will actively support students in seeking another provider and continuing their studies with them, utilising student/credit transfer arrangements; full transcripts will be provided for study completed with Northumbria; exit awards will also be provided where students meet the UK framework for HE qualifications and where there is provision for this in our Assessment Regulations. All programmes should (where appropriate) have specified exit awards but there are some exceptions.

5.2 As noted above, in the event that the University should cease trading or close a campus, the above provisions would also apply.

5.3 As noted above, from time to time the University will adjust teaching facilities and buildings. If this occurs, we will provide students with as much notice as possible and will provide alternative accommodation. Alternate accommodation may be at a different site in the City. We may also consider adjustments to the timetable. In the event that the University should cease trading or close a campus, the above provisions would also apply.

5.4 UKVI Tier 4 registration is necessary to admit international students to Newcastle or London Campuses. This is actively managed to ensure that we meet and maintain the highest possible standards. Universities are, however, subject to UKVI decisions, including changes to policy over which they have no control. In the unlikely event that the University's Tier 4 Sponsor Licence is suspended or revoked, the University will take all reasonable steps to minimise disruption to affected students by, for example:

- working with UKVI to allow enrolled students to complete their year of study/programme or allowing students already in receipt of a Tier 4 visa based upon an allocated Confirmation of Acceptance for Study (CAS) from the University to enrol and commence their studies;
- offering students who have not commenced their travel to the University the opportunity to postpone their application pending the resolution of the suspension;
- providing assistance to affected students to switch to an alternative sponsor;
- provision of online learning support for completion of awards if the student is unable to remain in the UK with Northumbria or with an alternative provider.
- A refund of tuition fees (to the student or their sponsor) where the programme is withdrawn and no alternative arrangements are feasible; the refund will reflect the circumstances and whether an exit award is possible.
- Compensation for reasonable and additional travel costs for students affected by a material change in the location of their studies.
- Compensation for other reasonable costs incurred or already committed to (including where accommodation and maintenance arrangements cannot be cancelled) where it is not possible to preserve continuation of study for a programme at the University or elsewhere.

5.5 If the University is unable to ensure a satisfactory outcome for students to complete their programme by the engagement described above, the University will consider refunds and compensation as necessary. This will include:

- A refund of tuition fees (to the student or their sponsor) where the programme is withdrawn and no alternative arrangements are feasible; the refund will reflect the circumstances and whether an exit award is possible.
- Compensation for reasonable and additional travel costs for students affected by a material change in the location of their studies.
- Compensation for other reasonable costs incurred or already committed to (including where accommodation and maintenance arrangements cannot be cancelled) where it is not possible to preserve continuation of study for a programme at the University or elsewhere.

6. Student Protection Measures - London campus

Northumbria's London provision is run by a joint venture company with QA Ltd, with teaching provided by Northumbria and university approved QA academic staff. QA Ltd is an established provider of HE (since 2011) with a substantial background in training and development. QA Ltd has a substantial estate in London of 129,203 sq. ft across five sites; our current London campus currently comprises 31,100 sq. ft.

6.1 We have no plans to cease the University's London provision. However, if the University decides to:

- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB.
- close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable premises at a nearby location.

We will consult students in line with our Student Charter and the principles noted above (Section 2) and take one or more of the three measures noted in Section 5.1 above.

Working with QA Ltd, if appropriate, we will also:

- ensure alternative teaching and assessment by Northumbria academic staff who are based in Newcastle, if required, including contact time in London and virtual contact as appropriate during teach-out.
- actively liaise with London based universities to support students to transfer, if required.
- secure alternative premises in London, if required.

6.2 The University has no plans to cease provision in London, but in the event that were to happen, the above provisions would also apply. They would also apply if:

- the University withdraws from the partnership with QA Ltd
- QA Ltd ceases trading or chooses to withdraw from HE provision or its partnership with Northumbria University.

6.3 As noted above, it is probable that the University will, from time to time, need to adjust teaching facilities and buildings. An increase in student numbers at the London campus may require the University to adjust its estate accordingly. If this occurs, we will provide students with as much notice as possible and will provide alternative accommodation. Alternative accommodation may be at a different site in London.

6.4 In the event of the University's Tier 4 licence being suspended or revoked, the measures noted above \(5.5\) will apply, including liaison with other London based providers of higher education.

6.5 In the event of the University being unable to ensure a satisfactory outcome for students or continuity of study, the University will consider refunds and compensation as noted above \(5.5\).

7. Student Protection Measures - Amsterdam campus

The University's Amsterdam Campus was hosted in premises owned by the Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences (AUAS); Northumbria space was located within AUAS teaching buildings. Northumbria specific programmes in Amsterdam were taught by Northumbria staff based in Amsterdam (or Newcastle) or staff contracted to teach by Northumbria University. Newcastle based Northumbria staff travelled to Amsterdam to deliver teaching and provide additional support by virtual means. Access to digital resources for students in Amsterdam remains the same as for students in Newcastle.

In May 2023 the Board of Governors approved the closure of the Amsterdam Campus with effect from February 2025. In line with the Conditions of Registration (C3) this has been communicated to staff and students, and notified to the Office for Students as a reportable event. The final recruitment intake commenced in September 2023. In line with the principles and measures noted above (Section 2 and Section 5) the following actions were taken to protect students.

- 7.1 It was anticipated that the majority of students would complete their programme by October 2024 in line with normal programme duration. To facilitate completion within the standard duration the opportunity to resit any failed modules of the taught element will exceptionally be offered over the summer of 2024. Students who do not complete by October 2024 will be supported to complete by February 2025 in the ways outlined below in 7.3 in accordance with assessment regulations.
- 7.2 Any student who does not complete their programme by February 2025 (for instance, due to personal extenuating circumstances) will be considered on an individual basis and be counselled on their options, which may include:
 - Completion of any outstanding assessments without attendance.
 - Completion of any outstanding assessments with support (this could include project supervision, access to learning materials (including lectures) via Blackboard, or attendance at either London or Newcastle campus).
 - Leaving the programme with a lower level award, or recognition of credit achieved.
- 7.3 In the event of the University being unable to ensure a satisfactory outcome for students or continuity of study, the University will consider refunds and compensation as noted in Section 5.5 above.

8. Student Protection Measures - Franchise and Collaborative Venture programmes

The University has a number of programmes offered on a franchise or other collaborative venture arrangement with partners, including a joint degree programme offered with the Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences (AUAS). The current list of partnerships and programmes is available: Partnership Collaboration Information. The University has rigorous procedures for approving and reapproving partnerships, including those in which there is additional in-country accreditation. for approving and reapproving partnerships, including those in which there is additional in-country accreditation.

In most cases the partner admits, supports, teaches and assesses students; the University normally provides support for learning resources – some direct teaching by Northumbria staff may also be provided. However, the University will invoke the Student Protection Plan in the event of a partner deciding to:

- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB.
- close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable premises at a nearby location.
- cease operating altogether.
- withdraw from the HE partnership with Northumbria University without teach-out arrangements being agreed.

The University will explore options with the partner to implement one or more of the three measures noted in Section 5.1 above. We will also:

- work with the partner and/or in-country accrediting agency to secure alternative in-country providers to support teach-out
- arrange virtual teaching and support by Newcastle based staff, with the support of a third-party college or Distance Learning Support Centre, if appropriate.

8.1 The above measures would also apply if the University withdraws from the partnership and teach-out arrangements are uncertain.

9. Student Protection Measures – Boundless Learning

Northumbria University runs a number of Distance Learning programmes in partnership with <https://www.boundlesslearning.com/>. Boundless supports recruitment to the programmes and also offers additional student support. The programmes are however owned and run by Northumbria University.

9.1 If the University decides to:

- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB;

We will consult students in line with our Student Charter and the principles noted above (para 2) and take one or more of the measures identified in Section 5.1 above to protect continuity of study for our students:

- 9.2 As noted above, we do not foresee any circumstances in which the University would cease trading, but in that unlikely event, the above provisions (section 5) would also apply.
- 9.3 If the University is unable to ensure a satisfactory outcome for students by the engagement described above, the University will consider refunds and compensation as necessary. This will include:
- A refund of tuition fees (to the student or their sponsor) where the programme is withdrawn and no alternative arrangements are feasible; the refund will reflect the circumstances and whether an exit award is possible.
- 9.4 The nature of Distance Learning means that other forms of compensation (e.g. travel) are unlikely to apply.

10. Student Protection Measures - Northumbria and QA Degree Apprenticeships

Some of Northumbria's national Degree Apprenticeship provision is run by a joint venture company with QA Ltd. with teaching provided by Northumbria and QA academic staff. See information above about QA Ltd. The University approves and awards the Degree Apprenticeship programme but QA Ltd admits, supports, teaches and assesses students; the University normally provides support for learning resources – some direct teaching by Northumbria staff may also be provided. QA Ltd engage with Apprentices and their employers.

- 10.1 The University will invoke the Student Protection Plan in the event of QA Ltd deciding to:
- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB or the Institute of Apprenticeships.
 - close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable premises at a nearby location.
 - cease operating altogether.
 - withdraw from the HE partnership with Northumbria University without teach-out arrangements being agreed.

The University will explore options with QA Ltd to take one or more of the measures noted in Section 6 above.

- 10.2 The above measures would also apply if the University withdraws from the partnership and teach-out arrangements are uncertain. In such circumstances, the University will be as proactive as possible in supporting Apprentices. However, there may be limitations on Northumbria University's rights to engage with employers.

11. Student Protection Measures - Newcastle Degree and Higher Apprenticeships

Northumbria University runs a number of Degree and Higher Apprenticeship programmes as approved by the Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education. Each programme is run in partnership with the employers of our apprenticeship students.

11.1 If the University decides to:

- discontinue a specific programme on which students are currently enrolled or loses the right to provide a specific programme or qualification, including recognition by a PSRB or the Institute of Apprenticeships and Technical Education, or early termination of a sub-contracting arrangement.
- close the location (building or campus) in which a programme is primarily taught and cannot find suitable premises at a nearby location.

We will consult students in line with our Student Charter and the principles noted above (para 2) and take one or more of the measures noted in Section 5 above to protect continuity of study for our students.

11.2 Each apprenticeship includes an agreement between Northumbria University, the student and their employer. The employer is responsible for the provision of work-based learning opportunities and support. The University will proactively engage with employers in respect of their obligations to support apprentices. However, the University is not responsible if an employer does not fulfil their apprenticeship obligations. Although it is important to note that funding can continue for an apprentice if a material proportion of their target award has been completed. Nor is the University responsible if an employer ceases trading, and the apprentice loses their employment. Where a student ceases to be employed as an apprentice, the University will support the student to completion of any associated University qualification where possible; including transfer to another programme. However, the student will not be permitted to continue as an apprentice unless they secure an alternative sponsoring employer.

11.3 The Student Protection Plan will be invoked if a large cohort of apprenticeship students (20 or more) are affected by a significant change in an employers' ability to continue to support the programme, or as a result of early termination of a sub-contracting arrangement.

12. Notification, advice and support

We will notify students of any changes that may affect their studies in a timely manner. Should the mitigation measures within the Student Protection Plan need to be activated, students will be notified by the Academic Registrar. Where possible, we aim to contact students at least three months prior to the intended dates of the programme change or closure.

Advice and support will be offered in the first instance by our Ask4Help team. Additional, independent, advice and support are available from the Northumbria Students' Union.

13. Related key documents

- The Student Protection Plan will be made available to all prospective and current students alongside the following key documents.
- Enrolment Terms and Conditions (Section 2 of the Handbook of Student Regulations)
- The Handbook of Student Regulations
- The University's Refund Policy (Section 13.11 of the Handbook of Student Regulations)
- The Student Complaint Procedure (Section 10 of the Handbook of Student Regulations)

14. Student complaints

Students' who are not content with the proposed outcomes of our Student Protection Plan may seek independent advice from the Northumbria Students' Union and/or raise a formal complaint with the University. The complaint procedure (listed under Handbook of Student Regulations) allows an opportunity for issues to be considered by the Office of the Independent Adjudicator.

Students may also:

- raise a concern with the Office for Students;
- have the right to complain to the Competition and Markets Authority.
